The regular newsletter from the Development Office of Rochester Cathedral

DECEMBER 2019

From the Vice Dean's desk...

A recent report from the Church of England on cathedral statistics demonstrates that record numbers of visitors and worshippers flock to England's cathedrals, and there was an increase in 2018 of over 10 per cent on the previous year.

At Rochester Cathedral we can also reveal the good news that we have seen an increase in visitors. To the end of October this year, we have seen a 15 per cent increase in visits compared to the same period in 2018.

For many people this was the first time they stepped foot into Rochester Cathedral, clearly Adventure Golf and the Knife Angel were great attractions.

As a cathedral with a Benedictine foundation we do well to remind ourselves of some of the Rule of St Benedict, where St Benedict writes a faith community exists to do two things: first to help its members find God, in making God the orientation of their lives and secondly to be a living, visible and tangible witness to the love that God has for each and every person and especially those seeking hospitality. But what is this hospitality and how does Benedict define it? In Chapter 53 of the Rule Benedict wrote: Any guest who happens to arrive at the monastery should be received just as we would receive Christ himself. Note the use of the word 'any'; note that Benedict is saying how we meet and greet people is directly correlated with how we 'meet and greet Jesus'. He goes on to say: Guests should always be treated with respect and deference and that 'the greatest care should be taken to give a warm welcome to the poor and pilgrim, because it is in them above all else that Christ is welcomed.

Someone recently tweeted 'I am not a religious man, but Rochester Cathedral keeps challenging my stereotypes of the CofE, with their community led approach. This time supporting Abigail's Charity with the use of this amazing place. It's opening my mind to you. Well done.'

As we move into the seasons of Advent and Christmas, let us ensure that we continue to welcome visitors, pilgrims and worshippers as if they were Christ. Whilst we will continue to offer a variety of activities to attract people to the Cathedral, it is vital that we remember the importance of daily prayer and Eucharist offered here for centuries. It is this that makes the Cathedral what it is today – and you are most welcome any day.

The Rev'd Canon Christopher Dench

The Dean, Chairman and Trustees of Rochester Cathedral Trust would like to take this opportunity to wish you all a very happy Christmas, and to again thank all our donors who have been so generous over the past year.

Quire/Clerestory Trust funded project

You may remember in the last edition of the Beacon we mentioned the project that urgently needed attention in the Quire/Clerestory area. We are pleased to say that this work is now fully funded and we start work next February/March. We are so grateful to The Headley Trust and to a very generous private donor.

We then concentrated on the windows along the North aisle. Repairs are needed to cracked, distorted and flaking sections caused by water penetration. Outer arches are disintegrating and there are windows in danger of blowing in. Urgent restoration is needed before stonework is lost. The cost of this project is £210,000 and we are delighted to say that this project is also fully funded and we are very grateful to the very generous individual that funded this work.

The next project is the external masonry of the nave, the deterioration of the stone at the west front and of course the heating!

The challenge of conserving, restoring and sustaining this enormous medieval structure is immense, and every five years a major survey of the condition of the cathedral's fabric is undertaken. Since the last report, in 2018, the Trust has raised over £560,000, tackling the most urgent repairs.

Recent Purchases

made by Rochester Cathedral Trust

Some of you may have noticed that the Cathedral now has a Defibrillator for emergency use. It is in a cabinet in the South Quire Transept and we hopefully never have to use it! But in the event of someone being seriously unwell it can save a life.

The radio system being used in the cathedral was desperately in need of replacement and the Trust was happy to be able to provide funds to purchase 20 new units.

New vestments for children

The Education Department have invested in some beautiful new vestments for children. They were paid for from kind donors of dedicated Education gifts. The new copes were painstakingly designed by Annie Lucas, our Interpretation manager during the first HLF project.

We are currently displaying vestments in the Exhibition Space by our new mirror so that children can try on the vestments and learn a little about the different colours.

The copes and mitres are also useful for teaching activities and will enhance learning sessions for years to come.

We are very grateful to the donors that made this possible.

An amazing performance had everyone out of their seats and singing along to the classic Beatles hits we all love – an especially great evening for Beatles fans!
